

22. General View, Lisbon, Portugal.

Tell Otto I'll be there with bells on - ready for the start.

GENERAL VIEW LISBON, PORTUGAL—Lisbon is the capital of Portugal. The city is partly built on the shores of the Tagus and on several small hills and presents a magnificently picturesque appearance from the river. It extends about five miles along the river. The harbor of Lisbon is one of the finest in the world. Population 328,000.

Dear Cousin Hello everybody! Guess I'll have to pencil & share my card with Ruth Chin as I'm not going to be discouraged by that, will be going during the summer. (Next day after here) but by lady the time the aid the ink is dry enough so I can write. Guess it is useless to write more
